

Great Summer Workshop for all K-12 Social Studies Teachers!

What: "Getting Great Questions, Doing Inquiry: Connections to C3 Teaching and Learning," a one-day workshop facilitated by Dr. Amber Strong Makaiau, NBCT teacher and current Director of Curriculum and Research at the Uehiro Academy; Dr. Thomas Jackson, University of Hawaii Philosophy Professor and Director of the Uehiro Academy; and Rosanna Fukuda, Educational Specialist for Social Studies.

Who: Participation is limited to fifty (50) K-12 elementary or secondary social studies teachers who are currently responsible for implementing social studies instruction at their schools.

Date and Time: Wednesday, June 15, 2016, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Location: OCISS Annex, located at 475 22nd Avenue, Room 226, Honolulu, Hawaii 96816

Stipends: A full day stipend of $164.00 will be given to participants who attend the entire day, agree to create a plan to implement the content and strategies learned at this workshop, and complete a follow-up survey on implementation.

Neighbor-island teachers: OCISS will provide up to fifteen (15) neighbor-island participants with air and shared rental car on a first-come, first-served basis.

Intent to Participate: To register, teachers must sign up on PDE3 for course #SS181023, section #282423 and submit the Intent to Participate form at <http://bit.ly/QSTNSINQRY> no later than Thursday, May 26, 2016. Neighbor-island teachers are encouraged to do this as soon as possible to facilitate travel arrangements.